STATE MANUFACTURES

Figures and Deductions Taken from Business Census of 1914. A preliminary statement of the gen eral results of the census of manu factures for the state of Connecticut has been issued by Director Sam. L.

department of commerce. The population of Connecticut at the census of 1910 was 1,114,756, and it is estimated that it was 1,203,000 on July 1, 1914.

The summary shows an increase at the census of 1914 as compared with that for 1909 with the exception of number of establishments and pronumber of establishments and proprietors and firm members, which show decreases. The decreases are due primarily to the fact that at the census of 1909 a large number of reports were received from small lumber and flour and grist mills. Mills engaged exclusively in custom sawing and custom sively in custom sawing and custom grinding for consumption in the immediate neighborhood should not be included in the census, but it is not always possible to conduct the enumeration in regard to these establish-ments on uniform lines at different conditions are no indication of a de-crease in the manufacturing activities of the state.

The summary for manufactures shows a consistent increase at the census of 1914 as compared with that for 1909. In the order of their impor-tance, from a percentage standpoint, the increases for the several items rank as follows: Salaries, 38.5 per cent.; salaried employes, 28 per cent. capital, 19.8 per cent.; wages, 13.7 per cent.; primary horse power, 13.4 per cent.; materials, 12.1 per cent.; products, 11.2 per cent.; value added by manufacture, 10.2 per cent., and wageearners, 7.3 per cent.

Capital Invested.

The capital invested, as reported in 1914, was $620,194,800, a gain of $102,667,000, or 19.8 per cent., over $517,547,000 in 1900. The average capital per establishment was approximately $151, 000 in 1914 and $122,000 in 1909. In this connection it should be stated that the inquiry contained in the census schedule calls for the total amount of Stomach Tablets Set Stomach Right in Jig Time and Never Harm.

Thousands Use Them For Indigestion, Capital, both owned and borrowed, invested in the business, but excludes the value of rented property, plant, or equipment which was employed in the conduct of manufacturing enterprises. In the final bulletins and reports the rental paid for such property will be Cost of Materials.

The cost of materials used was $288.

Value of Products.

The value of products was $545,249,-000 in 1914 and $490,272,000 in 1909, the increase being $54,977,000, or 11.2 per cent. The average per establish-ment in 1914 was approximately $123,-000, and in 1909 $115,000. The value of products represents their selling value or price at the plants as actually turned out by the factories during the census year and does not necessarily have any relation to the amoun of sales for that year. The values un-der this head also include amounts received for work done on materials fur-

Value Added by Manufacture. The value added by manufacture represents the difference cost of materials used and the value Rogers of the bureau of the census, of ehe products manufactured from them. The value added by manufac-ture was $256,795,000 in 1914 and $233. 013,900 in 1909, the increase being $23,-782,000, or 10.2 per cent. The value added by manufacture in 1914 formed 47.1 per cent of the total value products and 47.5 per cent, in 1909.

The average number of wage earners was 236,294 in 1914 and 210,792 in 1909, the increase being 15,472, or 7.3 per
